Pack 43, Dens 2 & 5

Brooklyn Cub Scouts Pack 44, Den 1

These bears aren't hibernating!

'Twas the month before Christmas and all through the channel cubbies and their mommies were all dressed in flannel. With Badges and Patches sewn on with care, These cub scouts on TV, would go over the air. Working so hard to stand still in their pants, they belted their lyrics, from songs and from chants With Me at the recorder to capture the show We do this each season, so next year's scouts know. How fun and important scouting can be and fun perhaps too, for we CTV.

30th Annual Sweeney Feast

On November 22nd, 2012, Sweeney Elementary School in Willimantic celebrated the day of thanks for the 30th time at the school. The gymnasium at Sweeney is transformed into a formal dining room with all the fixings that one could possibly enjoy for Thanksgiving. There's something special about sitting down for a meal with a friend but it's just amazing when you can share it with your whole school. Tracy Lambert, a mother of three children who have been taught at Sweeney School, has been a loyal camera operator and has captured the event for the past three years now. Thanks Tracy!

Tammy w/ Onyx (Terrier/Pit Bull Terrier)

Tammy and the Pit Bulls

During a recent episode of HomeFront, Tammy Lavigne, a volunteer from the East Hartford pound, shared her passion for pit bull terriers and other dogs and their livelihood. She will soon be making her own show about the dogs at the pound in the hopes of that they would be adopted. "Did you know that 5,000,000+ dogs and cats are euthanized in the U.S. each year due to the lack of homes. Please consider rescuing an already-homeless animal first, while millions are dying" (from the E. Hartford Animal Control website)

Watch for, "Tammy and the Pit Bulls" only on Charter Communications CTV14.

SCREENPLAY WORKSHOP

INT. CTV14 PUBLIC ACCESS STUDIO - NIGHT

Gathered around the studio television, the CTV14 interns finish viewing the movie Gladiator while following along with the movie script. JASON looks at the script, quickly looks back at the television and then raises his hand to get the TEACHER'S attention

JASON

(excited)

Wow, that is really cool to see how the writing comes to life on the screen.

TEACHER

Now it's your turn to put some ideas together and create a movie script of your own.

Intern Spotlight: Chris Walsh

Producer of "Common Sense Self Defense"

Chris Walsh (L) and Brian Walsh on the set of "Common Sense Self Defense"

CTV14: How did you hear about the CTV14 internship?

Chris: I heard about the CTV14 internship from my multimedia teacher when I was at Woodstock Academy.

CTV14: What did you work on during the internship?

Chris: During the internship, I worked on a lot of mobile shoots like talent shows, hockey games, lacrosse games, soccer games, as well as some in-studio shows. By doing so many different types of shows I was able to do every job like camera operator, technical director, audio, and graphics.

CTV14: What are you working on now?

Chris: Right now I'm working on my own show called, "Common Sense Self Defense. It's a martial art and self defense based show where my father (Brian Walsh) and I show different ways to defend yourself from everyday situations.

CTV14: Where do you see yourself in the world of multimedia in the future?

Chris: I would like to be in the field of sports broadcasting. My dream position would be working with ESPN, working the cameras during live sporting events, and in studio shows like Sportscenter. If I could be around cameras and sports at the same time then I would be happy.
